You can adapt this spread to fit your needs. Swap out sections that aren't relevant (like changing the "Work" section to "School" or replacing "Home" with "Travel"). You can add or omit sections. Have fun tailoring the reading to your needs!

HOW TO SIMPLIFY

Need a more concise reading? Reduce the amount of cards in each branch, even doing just one card per area. If tarot isn't your thing, you can do variations of this reading with oracle cards or Lenormand cards.

Each tarot card helps you to see the story of your life as it is unfolding. The oracle cards illuminate lessons to be learned from your experiences.

HOW TO GIVE YOURSELF A READING

The best time to give yourself a card reading is when you are in a relaxed and open frame of mind. The cards are a tool for communicating with your higher self, your unconscious and your divine support system. Approaching your readings with curiosity and openness makes it easier for your intuition to connect the meaning of the symbols and messages presented to you.

- 1) Relax and shuffle the tarot cards cards. You can say a little prayer or ask for direct and clear guidance that is for your greatest good.
- 2) Draw tarot cards for each section of the spread. Place each card face-down in the constellation formation.
- 3) Next, shuffle your oracle cards and place them face-down in the oracle sections of the spread.
- 4) Read the cards: Each section of the spread is like a mini reading about a particular area of your life. To prevent information overload, reveal and read the cards in sections - one area at a time (instead of turning over all of the cards at once). It is like unfolding your life one chapter at a time.
- 5) Once the entire reading is revealed and you have absorbed the messages of each area, take a moment to look at the reading as a whole. Are there overall themes you see? Is there a strong presence of one tarot suit over another? Are there lots of Major Arcana cards or very few?
- 6) Snap a photo and make any notes so you can refer to the reading later on.

Reading tip: It helps to focus on the theme of each area of your life as you pull cards. The cards tend to respond to what you are thinking about - so if you are pulling cards for money, but your mind is wandering to thinking about something else, the cards will reflect whatever you were actually thinking about. Relaxed intention will give you the most accurate results.
